THE CHALLENGE

Project execution suffers from miscommunication. There is no single source of truth for tracking issues, solutions, or status updates. Teams lack a shared workspace, making cross-functional collaboration impossible. Information should be centralized.

THE SOLUTION

Implement a centralized workspace to serve as the project's single source of truth. This platform will aggregate all issues, solutions, and progress updates into one transparent view. Cross-functional teams will finally have a shared environment for real-time knowledge transfer.
